

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Firstly, I would like to my greatest appreciation for Prof. Mohammad Taherzadeh, for the beyond excellent guidance and mentorship during my PhD journey. Thank you for motivate me to the best version of me and shaping my character into who I am now. Also, I would like to thank for your empathy, generosity and kindness during my hard time.

I wish to express my genuine appreciation and gratitude to my co-supervisor Dr. Ria Millati, ST., MT. who help me to start my PhD study, guides, supports, and encourages me since my bachelor.

I would like to also thank and appreciate sincerely to my co supervisor Prof. Claes Niklasson (especially for the statistical analysis) and Assoc. Prof Ilona Sarvari-Horvath for the fruitful discussion.

I extend my acknowledgment to my examiner Prof. Tobias Richards or helping me with the the organization of my Ph.D. study. I also deeply acknowledge the head of the department, Dr. Peter Therning and also the director of PhD study Dr. Tomas Wahnström especially the help that I got during my hard time. I sincerely thank for Dr. Dan Åkesson for ensuring I had a conducive research environment

I would like to thank Indonesian Endowment Fund for Education for providing the funding for my PhD.

I would like to express my gratitude for Dr. Rachma Wikandari for the guidance, insight, fruitful discussion, collaboration and support from my bachelor until PhD study. I am gratefully acknowledged Dr. Regina J. Patinvoh for the support, help, prayer, collaboration.

I am grateful for the help and discussion from Dr. Päivi Ylittervo especially for the GC-MS analysis.

I would like to thank Dr. Amir Mahboubi Soufiani for the friendship, courage, share of thick and thin moment, and collaboration. I would also like to thank to Andreas Nordin for being supportive, empathy, and the moments we cherish together.

I am greatly thankful to Thomas Södergren, Marlen Kilberg, Kristina Laurila, Sofie Svensson, Jonas Hansson, Faranak Bazooyar, and Haike Hilke for the assistance in the lab.

I would like to thank Sari Sarhamo, Susanne Borg, Jonas Edberg, Louise Holmgren, Jonas Andersson, Irene Lammasaari for assisting me with the administrative aspects of my work

I would like to express my deep appreciation for my former colleagues Dr. Konstantinos Chandolias and Dr. Steven Wainaina for the creating pleasant work environment, friendly, collaboration, and supportive work place in biogas lab.

I am so grateful who create a pleasant working environment. I appreciate the times I had with Dr. Foluke, Dr. Karthik, Dr. Supansa, Dr. Pedro, Dr. Swarnima, Dr. Sunanda, Dr. Jorge, Dr. Regina, Dr. Ram, Dr. Veronika, Dr. Francis, Dr. Alex, Dr. Mostafa, Dr. Sunil, Dr. Mohsen (exchange), Dr. Taner, Dr. Mina, Dr. Sajjad, Mohsen, Gülru, Anette, Rebecca, Sofie, Supriyanto, Amir B, Clarisse, Madumita, Kinanthi, Umarin, Yin, Johan, Danh, Neda, Hanieh, Tugba, , Naimeh, Pedro B., Sherry, Zohreh, Dr. Moyin, and Dr. Shilan.

Thank you to all my tutors Dr. Magnus Lundin, Assoc Prof. Anita Pettersson, Dr. Akram Zamani, Dr. Abas Mohsenzadeh, and Dr. Kamran Rousta.

Thanks to all the students whom I worked with at different stages Adin, Ervina, Yuli, Kartika, Tonny, Ilma, Dwita, Auliya, Bahriye, Joseph.

I would also like to thank the Indonesian families in Borås and Gothenburg for their support.

I would deeply appreciate the helps from Camila Bostrom for the fruitful discussion.

Thanks to the Göteborgs Operan International choir 2019 for being friendly and providing balance in my life for non-academic activities.

I would express my gratitude for the Damaschke family Thekla, Loke, Peter for fruitful discussion, support, accompany and many moments we enjoy together. Thank you, Ralf, for proof read my manuscripts and all the support.

I would like to thank to mother, father, and my brother for the support until I finish my PhD.

I dedicate this thesis for young people who (still) doubt about themselves and anxious about their future because of who they are. I wish them to be keep persistent, work hard and smart to achieve whatever dream they have.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Firstly, I would like to my greatest appreciation for Prof. Mohammad Taherzadeh, for the beyond excellent guidance and mentorship during my PhD journey. Thank you for motivate me to the best version of me and shaping my character into who I am now. Also, I would like to thank for your empathy, generosity and kindness during my hard time.

I wish to express my genuine appreciation and gratitude to my co-supervisor Dr. Ria Millati, ST., MT. who help me to start my PhD study, guides, supports, and encourages me since my bachelor.

I would like to also thank and appreciate sincerely to my co supervisor Prof. Claes Niklasson (especially for the statistical analysis) and Assoc. Prof Ilona Sarvari-Horvath for the fruitful discussion.

I extend my acknowledgment to my examiner Prof. Tobias Richards or helping me with the the organization of my Ph.D. study. I also deeply acknowledge the head of the department, Dr. Peter Therning and also the director of PhD study Dr. Tomas Wahnström especially the help that I got during my hard time. I sincerely thank for Dr. Dan Åkesson for ensuring I had a conducive research environment

I would like to thank Indonesian Endowment Fund for Education for providing the funding for my PhD.

I would like to express my gratitude for Dr. Rachma Wikandari for the guidance, insight, fruitful discussion, collaboration and support from my bachelor until PhD study. I am gratefully acknowledged Dr. Regina J. Patinvoh for the support, help, prayer, collaboration.

I am grateful for the help and discussion from Dr. Päivi Ylittervo especially for the GC-MS analysis.

I would like to thank Dr. Amir Mahboubi Soufiani for the friendship, courage, share of thick and thin moment, and collaboration. I would also like to thank to Andreas Nordin for being supportive, empathy, and the moments we cherish together.

I am greatly thankful to Thomas Södergren, Marlen Kilberg, Kristina Laurila, Sofie Svensson, Jonas Hansson, Faranak Bazooyar, and Haike Hilke for the assistance in the lab.

I would like to thank Sari Sarhamo, Susanne Borg, Jonas Edberg, Louise Holmgren, Jonas Andersson, Irene Lammasaari for assisting me with the administrative aspects of my work

I would like to express my deep appreciation for my former colleagues Dr. Konstantinos Chandolias and Dr. Steven Wainaina for the creating pleasant work environment, friendly, collaboration, and supportive work place in biogas lab.

I am so grateful who create a pleasant working environment. I appreciate the times I had with Dr. Foluke, Dr. Karthik, Dr. Supansa, Dr. Pedro, Dr. Swarnima, Dr. Sunanda, Dr. Jorge, Dr. Regina, Dr. Ram, Dr. Veronika, Dr. Francis, Dr. Alex, Dr. Mostafa, Dr. Sunil, Dr. Mohsen (exchange), Dr. Taner, Dr. Mina, Dr. Sajjad, Mohsen, Gülru, Anette, Rebecca, Sofie, Supriyanto, Amir B, Clarisse, Madumita, Kinanthi, Umarin, Yin, Johan, Danh, Neda, Hanieh, Tugba, , Naimeh, Pedro B., Sherry, Zohreh, Dr. Moyin, and Dr. Shilan.

Thank you to all my tutors Dr. Magnus Lundin, Assoc Prof. Anita Pettersson, Dr. Akram Zamani, Dr. Abas Mohsenzadeh, and Dr. Kamran Rousta.

Thanks to all the students whom I worked with at different stages Adin, Ervina, Yuli, Kartika, Tonny, Ilma, Dwita, Auliya, Bahriye, Joseph.

I would also like to thank the Indonesian families in Borås and Gothenburg for their support.

I would deeply appreciate the helps from Camila Bostrom for the fruitful discussion.

Thanks to the Göteborgs Operan International choir 2019 for being friendly and providing balance in my life for non-academic activities.

I would express my gratitude for the Damaschke family Thekla, Loke, Peter for fruitful discussion, support, accompany and many moments we enjoy together. Thank you, Ralf, for proof read my manuscripts and all the support.

I would like to thank to mother, father, and my brother for the support until I finish my PhD.

I dedicate this thesis for young people who (still) doubt about themselves and anxious about their future because of who they are. I wish them to be keep persistent, work hard and smart to achieve whatever dream they have.